Facta Universitatis celebrates its twentieth year of continuous publishing and this important milestone deserves to be commemorated with a summary of the journal articles. The bibliography of all published articles, proposed by Vesna Danković, is probably the best solution.

The introduction in the bibliography (FROM THE AUTHOR), shortly but clearly describes the journal, then organization, classification and methodology used in the bibliography, and the registers.

TABLE OF CONTENTS BASED ON THE UNIVERSAL DECIMAL CLASSIFICATION at the beginning, shows the structure of the main register and makes it easy for users to find the field of science they want to research.

The bibliographic description in the main register is full, precise, with the article abstracts in addition, and even contains the internet address of the electronic form of the article, which means that the chosen paper could be reviewed immediately.

The bibliography contains several indexes which allow the user to search literature using the name of the author, title of the article, subject heading or a key word.

Obviously, the bibliography is the result of great effort of the author and her wish to make it user friendly, which she succeeded.

Therefore, I warmly recommend this bibliography to the editor in chief for publishing.
